

The chart displays the distribution of restaurant grades over time. Grade A restaurants show a significant increase in numbers, starting from near zero in mid-2011 and reaching a peak of approximately 400 in mid-2015. Grade B restaurants show a more moderate increase, peaking around 150 in mid-2015. Grade C restaurants remain the lowest throughout the period, generally staying below 50.

